

WILLIAMSON CO. VOLCANO IS RUMBLING VIOLENTLY

SCAFFOLD FOR LINCOLN TO BE STATE DEMAND

Will go to Trial Wed- nesday for Murder of Wife and Brother

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Aurora, Ill., Feb. 11.—The gentle mannered lawyer-florist Warren J.
Lincoln, who claims his grandfather was a cousin of the great president of that name, today was indicted by the Kane County grand jury for the murder
January 10, 1923 of his wife, Lina, and her brother, Byron Shoup. Lincoln confessed January 12 last, that he slew the two and sealed their heads in a cement block. The block containing the heads was found at a city dump as he directed a hunt for the crypt. The bodies have not since been located. Lincoln says that his memory sometimes tells him that he buried the remains and at other times
that he burned them in the furnace of his greenhouse.

He killed, he says "while my brain was on fire." He has asked that a lawyer be appointed by the court to defend him when he goes on trial
Wednesday in the Kane County Court.
He has indicated that he will plead insanity. He refused to comment upon a report made by three alienists to State's Attorney Charles Abbott that he was sane "in the absence of details
as to the basis for their conclusions."
The state's attorney said he would demand that Lincoln pay for his crimes on the scaffold.

Millionaire's Home Near St. Charles is Destroyed By Flames

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Aurora, Ill., Feb. 11.—The country home near St. Charles, Ill., of the millionaire globe trader, Herbert P.
Vrane, was burned to the ground yesterday with an estimated loss of $125-000. The house was valued at not more than $50,000, but rare tapestries and paintings collected by Mr. Crane on his trips were lost in the flames.
Mr. Crane is now traveling. His son Val was in the house when the fire started and summoned the St. Charles fire department but by the time it made the run of two and one-half miles through snow-blocked highways
the house was almost consumed.

The house figured prominently in a divorce action Crane in the Kane County circuit court several years ago
by a beautiful girl bride, Eliza Piza, whom he had brought to America from Costa Rica. She said that Crapo gave her quarters in the great dwelling but that he divided it into locked and barred compartments, denying her entrance to his rooms. She won a degree and alimony of $100,000 and the custody of a baby son, Anthony Rafael Crane.

Crane attempted to have an order entered requiring Mrs. Crane as custodian of the boy to stay within the jurisdiction of the Illinois court but she was permitted to go to New York and has since made it her home.

Kiwanis Club Not to Meet Tomorrow Noon

The Dixon Kiwanis club will not meet in regular session Tuesday noon this week, owing to the St. Valentine's party to be given Thursday evening in the parlors of St. Luke's church. A special entertainment committee has provided a program of entertainment for this occasion, the feature of which will be an illustrated lecture on "America's Wonderland," given by Mrs. Emma Holman East, author, traveler, club woman, representing the National Park Association of Washington, D. C. Several musical numbers will intersperse the program and stunts will be provided. This will be the first ladies' night this year and every Kiwanian has been urged not to delay in making his reservation card.

Suit Against Looney Property Dismissed

The case of Dan Drost against John P. Looney, on which an attachment was issued against property of Looney
in Rock Island, was dismissed in circuit court on motion of Drost, who is serving time in the state penitentiary at Joliet for being implicated in the murder of John Looney, Jr.

Mrs. Ursula Looney Hamblin and her attorney, J. J. Conway of Ottawa, were in court when the case was dismissed. The property is released from possession of its owners. A deed to the property from Looney to his daughter was recorded about a year ago while Looney was in flight,
a fugitive from justice.

Miss Fern Richmond, formerly of Morrison, is the guest of Miss Helen Rounds.

The Dixon lodge of Elks will present another of their feature shows

which will be the title of the show ing with a musical comedy scene. All of the men taking part will be selected from the membership of the local lodge of Elks and the ladies will be the legal holiday. The banks of the city will be closed all day.

All offices in the court house will be

CHEERED WHEN HE ENDED TESTIMONY IN OIL COMMITTEE

Said His Work for Doheny
Was Limited to Mexican Oil Affair.

BULLETIN
By Associated Press Leased Wire
WASHINGTON, FEB. 11.—
SECRETARY WEEKS AFTER A
LUNCHEON CONFERENCE
WITH PRESIDENT COOLIDGE
DURING WHICH THEY DIS-CUSSED THE ROBINSON RES-OLUTION QUESTIONING THE
PRESIDENT TO ASK FOR THE RESIGNATION OF SECRE-TARY DENBY, MADE THIS STATEMENT: "SO FAR AS I KNOW THE CABINET WILL REMAIN INTACT."

"ADOPTION BY THE SENATE
OF THE ROBINSON RESOLU-TION WILL, IN MY OPINION, EFFECT NO CHANGE IN THE SITUATION." MR. WEEKS
SAID, "THE SENATE IS AUTH-ORIZED TO CONFIRM NOMI-NATIONS OF CABINET OFFIC-ERS AND TO TRY THEM ON IMPEACHMENTS FOR ANY WRONG DOING. OTHERWISE
IT HAS NO AUTHORITY OVER
THE TENURE OF OFFICE OF CABINET MEMBERS."

BULLETIN
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Feb. 11.—With growing bitterness, the senate debate on the resolution asking for the resignation of Secretary Denby entered today upon its final stage. There was an agreement to vote before adjournment
tonight.

The resolution was that of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, asking President Coolidge to request Secretary Denby to resign. A substitute, merely expressing an opinion that his resignation would serve the public interest had been presented by Senator Jones, republican, of Washington.

Senator Spencer, republican,
Missouri, opposed the Robinson
resolution on the ground that it was a "quasi judicial decision upon an uncompleted inquiry," and grossly unfair to the secretary.

Analyzing the act of June 4, 1920, which gave the navy authority over the oil reserves, Senator Spencer said it might easily be interpreted as giving the secretary the power to extract the oil.

BULLETIN
By Associated Press Leased Wire
St. Louis, Feb. 11.—W. G. Mc-Adoo's association with the Doheny oil interests renders his
"availability" as a presidential candidate doubtful, according to W. H. Johnston, president of the International Assn. of Manufacturers.
Mr. Johnston presided at the convention of the national conference for political action today.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Feb. 11.—In an atmosphere surcharged with political tension, William G. McAdoo faced the senate oil committee today, and explained his connection with the Doheny interests. He read a prepared statement in the course of a long cross examination reasserted forcibly over and over that the attack made on him was purely political.

It was purely political that the matter is wholly irrelevant to the subject matter of my inquiry," he said in conclusion,
"but I have been willing to come here and give these facts for such use and for such values as they may have in the pursuit of my investigation."

When Mr. McAdoo appeared in the committee room, accompanied by David Rockefeller, of Ohio, manager of his campaign for the democratic presidential nomination, he was greeted with a burst of applause. At the conclusion of his prepared statement, Mr.
McAdoo was questioned by Senator
Walsh, democrat, Montana.

No Prior Agreement.
Asked if there had been any arrangement while he was in the cabinet to enter the service of Mr. Doheny,
Mr. McAdoo replied in the negative.
He said he had advised Mr. Doheny only on Mexican affairs.

"I think I may say that if he had advised me about this matter," he added, "he never would have gotten into this difficulty."

Mr. McAdoo said Doheny was mistaken in saying his services here for the Doheny companies ended with the passing of the Wilson administration.
In 1921, he said, he appeared before Under Secretary of State Fletcher to "earnestly" express the hope that the Mexican policy of the Harding admin-

BROADWAY'S MERRY-GO-ROUND RUNS ON AS ANOTHER BUTTERFLY PAYS WITH LIFE

LOUISE LAWSON

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
NEA Service Staff Writer
NEW YORK.—In a notorious Broadway cabaret a table is vacant for the first time in years. It stands as a silent tribute to the queen that once reigned over it nightly.

For down the steep trail blazed by Dot King, and other Broadway Butterflies who paid their tolls with death has gone 24-year-old Louise Lawson.
She came from Walnut Springs, Texas,
to make her way in the big city—and ended in its morgue!

In the wake of her brutal murder
in a costly apartment on the West Side just off Central Park, comes the usual sensation involving wealthy men prominent in financial and social circles. There are stories of wild nights, champagne parties, weekend
trips to the country, and "heavy-sugar" daddies.

But soon there will be another queen, and Broadway will forget. For the mad merry-go-round whirls on—
And on.

But down in Walnut Springs they will never forget. For the Lawsons, prominent in the little Texas town,
sent their girl north to develop her career.

She was talented, both as musician and actress. Her family had high hopes of seeing her name blazed forth
over some theater or concert hall.

But in the six years that she was here she did not get more than half a

TWO OFFICERS IN PRISON KILLED IN RIOT THIS MORNING

Prompt Work By Staff
Prevented Big Delivery of Prison.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 11.—Two prison officers were shot to death and a number of convicts were wounded today in a riot at the Western Penitentiary. After an hour's fight, during which riot guns, tear gas bombs,
clubs and bricks were used, the prison guards assisted by the county detectives and Pittsburgh police quelled the disturbance, which started when the convicts used explosives in an effort to dynamite their way to freedom.
No prisoner escaped.

The dead are:
William Pfeiffer, assistant deputy warden.
J. A. Coax, an overseer.

Warden J. M. Egan reported that the plot was born in the minds of four or five "bad men" recently transferred to the prison here from the Eastern Penitentiary to be disciplined. He added that he believed the plot was engineered by a quartet
of convicts known as "the four horsemen." They had help from the outside, the warden declared.

Had Had Breakfast.
Prisoners, numbering more than 1,000 had just breakfasted and were about to go to their tasks in the workshop when the blast ripped the main gates and a section of the wall,
shattered windows and caused residents to flee from their homes.

Pfeiffer and Coax were nearby. They started on a run for the hole in the wall but were intercepted by 15 convicts who disarmed them, beat them

dozen theatrical engagements—none
of which were of more than minor importance.

Her musical training was a bit more successful. Through her playing she made many friends—some of whom are prominently mentioned in the investigation of her murder.

Her life became a gay one. She moved into a three-room apartment in the fashionable "Monastery"—opposite the Museum of Natural History.

There she had a colored maid come in at 11 o'clock in the morning to awaken her and give her breakfast.
For her parties usually broke up late.

But one morning there was no awakening. This is what the colored maid found.

Her musical training was a bit
dressing gown, lying strangled in her bed, beneath a pink blanket; her white-haired pet "Texie" tied up in another room; drawers upset; papers scattered all over the floor; jewels gone; a half-empty champagne bottle standing on the ice-box; photographs thrown down on the red drape over the piano.

Among these was one of Gerhardt
M. Dahl, former vice president of the Chase National Bank, now a broker and chairman of the Exchange Committee of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Company.

His was the first name dragged into the case. He is more than 50 years old, prominent in social life and married. His wife is away in Florida.

Dixon Hairdresser Passes State Exam.; Is Now Real Barber

Mrs. Quiney Adams passed the State Barbers examination according to word from Springfield, and is now licensed to cut the hair in any desired manner. She expects her license in a few days.

and then shot the officers with their own guns. The prison yard became a battle ground as other prisoners and other guards joined in the fight. The guards collected near the gates and,
threatening the prisoners with the sawed off shot guns, ordered them to their cells. But the explosion had signaled an attempt to escape. They were stubborn and showed fight. Even the prisoners in their cells shouted and beat upon the walls and bars. A few got loose but the guards met them hand to hand, and threw them back into the cells. A call for help went out to the city.

With a large force at his disposal, Warden Egan took command. He stationed the county detectives on the walls while guards and patrolmen
took up the battle in the enclosure.
The prisoners used pistols and anything else lying loose. The officers soon got the upper hand. The convicts were backed against one of the gray stone walls and after a brief
hand to hand struggle they gave up.
They were driven back to their cells.

Dies at Colony as Mother Visits Her

Mrs. Ida J. Bates, aged 41, passed away at the Dixon state colony Saturday afternoon at 5:30 of epilepsy.
Mrs. Mary A. Grieger, her mother, was visiting her at the time and took charge of the remains which were sent to Taylorville, Ill., yesterday for burial.

"I have known Miss Lawson and her mother for some time," he says.
"She was a young woman of excellent family, personal charm and exceptional musical promise."

Police believe the motive of the crime to be robbery. But Broadway's whisperings tell of other things.

They tell of lavish presents, wealthy admirers, limousines that drove up to her door daily, night revels and expensive excursions.

Miss Lawson was on the Angler D.
Duke party when the heir of the $5-000,000 estate of Benjamin B. Duke was drowned in Long Island Sound
last September.

Her tragedy closely parallels that of Dot King, Broadway favorite who was found murdered ten months ago in an apartment just a mile away from Miss Lawson's.

Both girls were well known along the White Way. Both girls were found murdered in bed. Both were believed to have been killed by a man. Both knew wealthy persons. Both were young and pretty.

Dot King's murder has never been solved.

But the police say they are bent on getting to the bottom of the new mystery. Perhaps they will—

But it won't do the family down in Walnut Springs much good. Their child is gone and their happiness shattered.

DIXON HIGH FIVE BURIES ITS JINX; TRIMS ROCK FALLS

Team is Rounding Into Fine Form; Pleased
Fans with Game.

(BY F. E. R.)

After suffering many defeats at the hands of their opponents during the present basketball season, the Dixon High School five successfully and completely buried the "jinx" Saturday evening at the South Side gym when they lambasted the Rock Falls team to the tune of 29 to 19.

The game, which was witnessed by a large crowd of fans, was a splendid exhibition of basketball, both teams contributing their share to the performance. The decisive period of the game came in the last quarter. Up to that time it was a case of nip and tuck. However, when Coach Bowers found their range it was a short road to victory. Striegel, Dixon's center, piled up the largest number of points for the locals, but every man was in fine form and each participated in the scoring. Pignatelli, Rock Falls' center, was the star performer for the visitors and was given royal support by the his mates.

The victory over this strong aggregation of basket shooters again places the local boys in the ranks of the "Go-Getter" class, and their enthusiastic supporters expect to see Dixon carrying the big end of the score in many of the games yet to be played this season.

The line-up:
Dixon—McReynolds, rf.; Wickey, lf.; Striegel, c.; Rosecrans, rg.; Rynerson, lg.
Empire—Anderson, Illinois University.
Referee—Pirr, Illinois College.

TROOPS IN CONTROL WHILE SHERIFF AND FORMER MAYOR HERRIN ARE UNDER ARREST

Law Has Broken Down in Fight Between Dry and Wet Elements

BULLETIN
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Herrin, Ill., Feb. 11.—Former Mayor A. T. Pace was arrested today on charge of murder after he had been sworn in as foreman of the coroner's jury to investigate the killing Friday night of Constable Caesar Cagle "dry" rall leader. Pace was charged with complicity in Cagle's death.
The warrant for Pace's arrest was sworn out by S. Glenn Young, dry worker and paid employee of the Ku Klux Klan, who has set up a defacto municipal government.

BULLETIN
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Urbana, Ill., Feb. 11.—Sheriff
George Galligan of Williamson County and four deputies were brought here last night and lodged in the Champaign County jail for safe keeping. They were arrested by constables and deputy sheriffs at Marion as a result of disorders in which members of the Ku Klux Klan and Knight of the Flaming Circle were involved.
Sheriff John Gray of this county questioned authority of officials to place the sheriff and his deputies in the local jail. He was informed by state officials to hold the prisoners until ordered by a court of record to release them.

Neither Sheriff Galligan, his deputies, nor the six deputy sheriffs who brought them here will discuss the trouble.

The deputy sheriffs in jail with Galligan are: John Murray,
James Davis, James McKenna
and John Jascagha.

Herrin, Ill., Feb. 11.—(By The Associated Press)—Turbulent Williamson County, scene two years ago of the massacre of more than a score of non-union coal miners and lately of an internecine warfare between "dry"
Ku Klux Klan and "wet" anti-Klan factions, today faces the prospect of a declaration of martial law and a strike of approximately 4,000 bituminous miners employed in 27 miles.

It is believed generally that with the arrival of additional national guardmen law enforcement will pass into the hands of the military instead of having them act under the direction of Coroner W. H. McCowan, held to be the only county officer functioning as such.

1,700 Troops in County
State troops enroute here will bring the total in the county to approximately 1,700. The troops ordered here include the 130th Infantry, composed of southern Illinois units, and the 132nd Infantry made up of Chicagoans.

At present there are five companies of guardsmen in Herrin, three companies of infantry, a machine gun company, one troop of cavalry on foot, and a headquarters company at Marion, and three unmounted troops of cavalry and a headquarters company at Johnston City.

Major General Milton J. Foreman, of Chicago, who was in command in the 33rd Division in the World War, will command the troops.

Machine Guns Placed
No untoward incident occurred last night in the county, according to reports to the military authorities.
Troops have placed machine guns in strategic positions in the three towns
over which they are exercising military control and guards have been thrown about the court house at Marion, and the city hall and hospital here.

The citizen police deputized by S. G.
Young, acting chief of police of Herrin
and paid employee of the Ku Klux Klan, continued their patrol of Herrin streets. Young stated he had deputized about 300 such men. Regular police badges were not available,
so a tinSmith fashioned a number of six pointed tin stars.

It was Young who led the "dry"
raids in Williamson County which resulted in the arrests of approximately 2,000 persons and the formation of the Knights of the Flaming Circle, a faction opposed to the Klan dry raiders.

It was in a flareup of the intense feeling engendered by Young's acti-

ROOMS NEEDED TO HOUSE MANY DELEGATES HERE

Citizens Must Open Up Homes to Care for Farm Delegates.

The hospitality of the people of Dixon will be put to test Feb. 19, 20 and 21—the three days the Illinois State Farmers Institute holds its annual convention in this city. For, in order that the many visiting delegates may be properly cared for over 100 rooms in private homes will be needed; and the Chamber of Commerce, on whose invitation the state organization voted to come to Dixon for its meeting this year, is today appealing to the people of Dixon to help in making the visit-ers, of whom there will be hundreds,
glad they came to this city.

The state meeting of the farmers will be one of the biggest conventions
Dixon has ever been called upon to entertain, and the hearty and complete cooperation of all of the citizens will be necessary, it is stated. The delegates will come prepared to pay $1 per person each night for sleeping accommodations.

Dixionites having rooms which they can turn into service for the community in this endeavor are asked to communicate with the Chamber of Commerce at once, phone 26, giving full information concerning location and nature of room and number of visitors
that can be accommodated.

vities that Caesar Cagle, constable of Herrin, was killed Friday night and feeling reached a pitch which necessitated soldiers being ordered into the county for the second time within a month.

Cagle Funeral Sunday
Cagle, an admitted Klansman, was buried yesterday at Carterville, his birthplace, after the biggest funeral ever seen in Williams County.
About 5,000 persons were at the services here, and 500 motor cars were in the cortege leaving here, while a large group met the body at Carterville.

Miners here declare that the threatened strike would be because the miners had found they were "working shoulder to shoulder with admitted members of the Ku Klux Klan." Article 11 of the constitution of United Mine Workers of which the miners are members, specifies that no
miner shall be a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

The Chicago, Wilmington & Franklin, Penobdy-Taylor Coal Co., and the Consumers Coal Co., are the operating companies expected to be affected.

The special policemen appear to be mostly miners. Most of them are garbed in blue overalls, flannel shirts and jumpers. All are armed. Some carry two pistols, one in a holster
and the other protruding from a coat pocket.
They appear grim and serious,
intently eye all strangers, stop many
and keep streets clear of automobiles.

Buffalo Congregation Voted Confidence in Oak Park Minister

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 11.—The board of deacons of the Delaware Avenue
Baptist Church today issued a statement expressing confidence in Rev.
Case of Oak Park, Ill., and declaring his conduct during his ten years pastorate here was untouched by scandal.

Dr. W. G. Gregory, senior deacon, said that Attorney W. R. Moss of Chicago, lawyer for Albert Leland, who alleges the minister seduced his wife, was in the Buffalo church and interviewed several members concerning Gregory declares any intimation that conditions in Dr. Case's time. Dr.
Dr. Case's stay here was at any time clouded is utterly unfounded.

Murray's and Byers' Names Lead Rivals

From Springfield comes word that because his petition for nomination was filed ahead of that of any of his rivals for Congressman from this district, the name of William E. Murray of Rock Falls, efficient secretary of the present incumbent, Hon. John C. McKenzie, will be first on the ballot at the primary April 8. The petition of William Johnson of Freeport, who it is said has a wealthy sister interested in Texas oil interests, for the same position, was filed soon after Mr. Murray's paper was deposited.

John H. Byers, representative, was fortunate in getting his petition ahead of all others, and his name will be first of the candidates for member of the General Assembly, with that of Henry Allen of Whiteside county second.

stration would be as vigorous as was that of the Wilson administration.

Asked by Chairman Lenroot if he regarded Mr. Doherty "equally as guilty" as Mr. Fall in the oil lease matter, Mr. McAdoo said:

"Not equally. But I think he is guilty of a very serious matter. Of course I do not undertake to express a judgment until your evidence is completed. Therefore, I say it appears."

Chairman Lenroot said he wished to explain "outside of the record" that the questions which had been put to Mr. Doherty and which resulted in the disclosure of Mr. McAdoo's employment as counsel had been at the request of Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri.

"It was in these questions that your name was brought out as one of his counsel," Chairman Lenroot said. "Do you think this committee would have been justified in refusing the request of Senator Reed?"

"No sir," replied Mr. McAdoo. "I am glad you brought it out. I hope the committee will continue its investigations and bring out all the facts."

Asked "what service" he had performed as counsel for Doherty, he said:

"Was Special Counsel."

"Special counsel, acting in an advisory capacity in such matters as were presented to me from time to time."

"He has not advised with you about any matters except Mexican matters."

"Our professional relations began in that connection and continued in that connection. I have never been consulted in his oil leases. He has had other attorneys for that work."

Chairman Lenroot asked the witness whether he had appeared personally before the government departments here in the matters referred to in his recent letter to the committee.

"I did not," replied Mr. McAdoo. "My partner, Mr. Cotton appeared before the state department on occasions. I purposely refrained from acting myself because I wanted to observe every propriety. There was no question of politics involved in the matters presented."

Met Mexican President.

Mr. McAdoo told of his trip to Mexico January, 1921, to discuss with the Mexican authorities article 27 of the Mexican constitution. He said he had a conference with President Obregon in which "I stated that a genuine disaster would result to Mexico if an attempt was made to give article 27 retroactive effect, and told him such an attempt would prevent all American enterprise in Mexico."

"President Obregon," Mr. McAdoo continued, "said it was not intended to give section 27 retroactive effect, and that there was no intention to"

Replying to Senator Bursum, republican, New Mexico, Mr. McAdoo said neither he nor his firm had ever represented Doherty or any of his companies in income tax matters before the Treasury department.

When the examination was concluded and Mr. McAdoo left the witness chair the crowd again broke into applause, and he turned and waved his hand as he walked out of the committee room.

OPPORTUNITY—
To nearly every one there comes a tide,
On which our splendid dream ships ride and ride;
With longed-for treasure from Hesperides,
That lie beyond the wide and tossing seas.
Yet, strange sometimes our eyes may not discern,
Their bright arrival from them we turn,
Or with some dear delusion we insist
That richer cargoes towards us swing and list.
Then, through the bitter rains of
We cry for chances which we can't vainly regret, forget.
—Thomas J. Murray.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—
Kitchen Knife.
If the kitchen knife needs sharpening in a hurry you can improve the edge temporarily by drawing it quickly back and forth across the edge of an iron sink or a wooden doorstep.

Dust in Carvings.
Take a good sized round bristle paint brush, dip it in kerosene and hang it in the open air until it appears dry. This will make an excellent duster for deep carvings and elaborate moldings.

Shredded Coconut.
Shredded coconut that seems to be too dry for ordinary baking purposes may be freshened by soaking it in milk for an hour or so and then draining it in a strainer until the moisture is evaporated.

Percolator Top.
When the glass top of your coffee percolator breaks it is sometimes possible to join the pieces with adhesive tape and make it usable until a new top is secured.

NEW SPRING SUIT

The new smart thing for spring is the new tailored suit. It is narrow across the shoulders, either single or double breasted, may be slightly fitted at the waist, long or short coat—but it is smoothly and sleekly perfect in its cut and fit—and the smartest women in New York prefer it to all other spring wear.
Its accessories are a tailored blouse, a gardenia in the buttonhole, short ruffled gloves and a stick if one wishes. Sketched is a correct model.

Gluten Bread.
Two cups boiling water, 1 tablespoon lard, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 cake compressed yeast, 1 cup lukewarm water, 6 cups gluten flour.
Add lard and salt to boiling water. When cool, add yeast cake dissolved in lukewarm water. Put gluten flour in bread pan, making a well in the center. Pour in yeast and stir in enough flour to make a stiff batter. Let rise in a warm place for one hour. Stir in remaining flour and enough more to make the dough so stiff it can't be stirred. Knead until smooth. Just enough flour to prevent sticking should be used. Let stand in bread pan in a warm place until light—about three hours. Divide into two loaves without kneading and bake an hour in a moderate oven. One pan of rolls and one pan of bread can be made.

NEWS FROM DIXON

Banquet to Band is Most Happy Affair

Thursday night the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. banqued the Y Boys' Band in the boys' department. They had as their guests beside the band, the band committee and the boys' work committee. After the chicken banquet, which by the way, was one of the best ever served in the Y. M. C. A., Rev. P. H. Case addressed the boys on the possibilities for the future such as a band as this might make for themselves. O. M. Rogers who acted as chairman, with the use of a fog horn and an alarm clock for a timepiece, called on several men for short talks and followed this by several talks by the boys. Every boy responded to his name with a neat little speech but the outstanding boy speaker was Kenneth Ketchin who spoke so well that he had to get up and make a second talk. Kenneth tells us that he has much more fun by being a student in the band than being a student in school, for in the band the more noise you make the better. Following the program the band played several pieces.

The boys and the men expressed themselves that the banquet was one of the best events this season and voted unanimously to make it an annual affair.

KNITTED FROCK IN FAVOR

THE knitted frock prides itself upon keeping in tune with fashion's decisions, and the newest frocks presented are featuring the tunic development. The tunic is just one more interpretation of the two-piece frock mode which is creating such a furore today, and will be greatly appreciated by those who demand the latest thing in fashion.

Knitted tunic frocks make a point of other interesting style items as well. For instance, some stripes in contrasting colors are much to the fore, the tunic shows horizontal stripes in graduated widths, with the narrowest stripe at the neckline. Very often the striped idea is repeated on the long, fitted sleeves. One of the successful color combinations which always makes its appearances in the Spring is gray with navy blue stripes.

A note of individuality is injected into many of the new knitted frocks through the medium of leather collars, piquant leather straps depend from the collar or serve as tie-ends. Nail head buttons make a smart trimming.

TOO MANY BANKS.

The epidemic of bank failures in certain sections of the West, into which the Federal Reserve Board and the War Finance Corporation are now making inquiries, is not caused wholly by agricultural difficulties, such as reduced land and produce prices. An important cause, which should be considered in helping the banks of that region, is the fact that there are too many banks.

It is reported that there is a bank for every 800 people in the state of North Dakota. Since not all of the 800 in any instance are well to do, there is obviously not enough business to go around and to support all the operations of all the banks.

A permanently bad situation cannot be treated as an emergency, and the government has to go slow in advancing funds to aid institutions which can never hope to maintain themselves even in better times. A lot of those small banks ought to combine.

"MINORITY RULE."

Mrs. Maud Wood Park, president of the League of Women Voters, is preparing to get out the vote next fall, and is much exercised by the comparatively small vote cast in recent elections. In 1920, she points out, only 49 per cent of the voters cast ballots, and in the state elections of 1922, only a little more than one-third. Wherefore she concludes that the country is in a perilous state.

"The absence of 51 per cent of the qualified voters from the polls," she says, "is more serious than an epidemic, a greater menace than a refusal to pay taxes, for it strikes directly at the foundation of our government—the principle of rule by the majority of the people."

Now, any good citizen will grant that it is bad for voters to stay away from the polls—bad for them, and bad for public affairs. But it does not follow that the country is thereby going to perdition, or that the principle of majority rule is wrecked.

It does not take a majority of citizens to make a quorum, in any election. Our government, municipal, state and national, is representative. Voting has always been regarded, in law and in fact, as a privilege of every citizen, not as a legal requirement. Those who take the trouble to vote elect public officials and determine public policies. Those who do not take the trouble are represented by their voting neighbors, and as a rule, rather fairly represented. If they had any good reason for wanting things otherwise, they would go and vote to have them otherwise. Thus the actual percentage of citizens voting in any election seldom makes any material difference in the immediate result.

It is in the indirect results and the long run that absence from the polls is destructive of good government. That comes about because people who do not vote do not keep up a living interest in public affairs and an active censorship on public officials.

A MUZZLED PRESS.

The government of Brazil is engaged in the interesting experiment of trying to muzzle the press. A new law provides fines and imprisonment, on a graduated scale, for newspaper "attacks," particularly against public officials. One offender has been haled into court, and others expect arrest.

In fairness to the President and Congress of Brazil, it should be admitted that there is a strong temptation to such action.

"A weakness of South American newspapers," says a correspondent at Rio, "is that most of them are organs of prominent politicians or of parties, and indulge in bitter attacks on political rivals. There is nothing the President or his advisers can do in the interest of the government that suits enemy press. Newspaper ethics, as known in the United States, is most generally violated in South America. Criticism of the government is not constructive, but vindictive and vituperative. In general, the press of Rio de Janeiro is no exception."

Nevertheless the undertaking of the Brazilian government is a dubious one. It will probably be recognized there, before long, that freedom abused is better than no freedom at all, and that it is safer for the newspapers to be free to criticize than for government officials to be free to jail the editors for their criticism.

There is always a tendency on the part of public men to construe criticism as an "attack," even when it is honest. Public officials in this country have seemed strangely unaware, at times, of the fact that the typical newspaper editor is no less public-spirited than the typical office-holder, and is likely to be closer to the people and therefore a more trustworthy exponent of public opinion.

The founders of our government realized that there can be no political freedom without a press to criticize as well as praise.

Completion is announced of the Shandaken tunnel, the big engineering undertaking which has cost $12,000,000, and which will double the water supply of New York City. This tunnel, said to be the longest tunnel in the world, is eighteen miles long. It pierces the lower Catskill mountains, through blue sandstone and red shale. It extends north and south 100 miles north of New York City and twenty-five miles west of Hudson river. Before the boring of this tunnel the city was cut off from 300 miles of water drainage equalling a quarter billion gallons of water a day. The two longest tunnels in Europe are the Simplon, thirteen miles, and the St. Gothard, nine and one-half miles. The Shandaken is so wide and high that automobile parties have driven through it. Water costs big cities fabulous sums, but they must have it.

The United States Senate seems to be getting out of patience with the American public. And the sentiment is reciprocated.

Up to date, the United States seems to be winning the Mexican war.

JAPS PLAY SAME AS WE DO.
Diet Pretends It Is Congress.

The Japanese Diet is following our Congress very closely, so closely that they had a fight. Some Jap threw a glass at the Jap speaker. While now a quaint old American custom, this still carries out the prevailing spirit in our Congress.

The glass missed the speaker. That is the only difference. If it had been thrown in our Congress it would have hit the speaker.

Now a change of Diet has been ordered in Japan. Maybe somebody was feeding the members on raw meat.

Nancy and Nick were certainly having a fine time in Riddle Land. Not only did they like the Riddle Lady with her merry smile, and also the people, from Humpty Dumpty to the Tattered Man, but they loved to guess the riddles!

They hoped the Fairy Queen would let them stay for a while—that is, as long as there were any riddles to guess.

They ran to meet the Riddle Lady next day when she came. "What is it about this time?" begged Nancy.

The Riddle Lady laughed. "It's about a queer creature," she said. "The queerest creature you ever heard of. What is it?"

"A leg on each one of his corners, And whiskers each side of his nose, And a nice little tail That sticks up like a sail, And follows wherever he goes.

"His nose is the funniest ever! It's black and it's cool and it's wet. If it's dry and it's hot, Mother says like a cat. It's a sign that his tummy's upset.

"He's fondest of bones and of candy, But he dearly mowsels of meat, And he stands up and begs On his funny hind legs If he thinks you have anything sweet.

"Way out at the end of our garden, All covered with sticks and with stones, Is a queer little mound Where he's dug up the ground.

FANTASIES. — BY BERTON BRALEY

Don't stop the boy from dreaming. Don't clip his visions' wings. He'll have enough of scheming And hard, material things When life's harsh hands have clutched him And care has lined his brow. Be glad a spell has touched him. Be glad he's dreaming now.

Don't spoil his fond illusion Of magic hopes and fair, Don't scatter in confusion His castles of the air. You'll only set him grieving For what you take away. So let him go on weaving His fancies while he may.

Scorn not his mood enchanted, For wise men know the truth, That growth and change are planted First in the dreams of youth. Dull not his fancies gleaming, Scoff not his fairy plan. Don't stop the boy from dreaming—His dreams shall make the man. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

"You have no proof of anything of that sort," answered Jack angrily when I mentioned Sydney Carton as the father of little Jack. "I do wish people would not interfere with my business."

"My dear Jack, you cannot stop people from talking. You know as well as I that you were very glad when I told you I was not leaving the city. You yourself were trying to refute the gossip which you had heard."

"You may not believe it, Jack, but Ruth Ellington is one of the best friends you have, not for your sake particularly, but because she is fond of me. She told me that, however innocent you might be in the matter of taking down the billboard, it would be impossible to make the people think it for any other reason than that you were angry because the billboard people were advertising Paula Perier."

"Well, I wish you would never mention the matter to me again. I'm sick and tired of it," growled Jack walking up and down the floor. "I wonder if

TUBERCULOSIS PATIENT

Climatic treatment has always been of great assistance to the person suffering from tuberculosis. Even a change from the crowded city to the open country is often a great aid.

The real value of a suitable or mild climate is the opportunity it gives the patient for out-of-doors life and activity in the fresh air. But living the real hygienic life is as great a safeguard as certain mild climates.

Aside from mild, airy living quarters, tubercular patients, or those who are trying their best to avoid any such infection, must carefully consider their diet.

One thing must always be carefully thought of in this connection. The tubercular patient is most always the victim of a lack of appetite. Therefore, the food prepared for him should be a tempting dish, one that cannot be refused.

The body is subject to great loss or wasting away of tissue in this disease. The necessary diet should aim to keep the body tissues from waste or being consumed faster than they can be replaced or built up. On the other hand, scientific diet must combat the attempt to overfeed or stuff the patient.

Physicians, who have made tubercular diet a specialty, agree that if the patient is far below normal weight for age and height, he must be given energizing food to build him up to normal.

Plain fare should be the rule. A nutritious diet can be carried out successfully at an average expense. Energy foods that produce satisfactory gains depend on the individual and his digestive powers. Butter, cream, olive oil and other vegetable oils, together

OBITUARY

MRS. SARAH A. JEFFS.

(Contributed.)

Notice has been received of the death of Mrs. Sarah A. Jeffs on the 21st of January at her home, 795 Curtis street, Pasadena, Cal. She was for many years a resident of Dixon where she was respected and loved.

Mrs. Jeffs was born at Rahway, N. J., Oct. 15, 1845, being in her seventy-ninth year. She came of two well-known eastern families, her father being Aaron Morris, and her mother Sarah Randolph. When a child her parents came to Illinois where her civil war was passed. She and her school days were spent. Later when the Civil war was passed she was united in marriage to Lieut. Henry Jeffs. They located at Boone, Iowa, and Hutchinson, Kas., experiencing at these places the pleasures and hardships incident to pioneer life.

Because of her feeble health she and her daughter left in September for California, hoping to save her from the rigors of another northern winter. Here her health improved and she was able to take long rides by auto. Still bright in mind and keenly appreciative of the beauties of nature and of all that was best in life, this summer land was a great pleasure to her.

About ten days before her death she received a stroke from which she apparently recovered but a few days later pneumonia developed and relatives and physicians were unable to save her. Mrs. Jeffs' faith was absolute, comforting her in every trial and cheering those who knew her. Patient, gentle and considerate to the last, no one can recall an unkind or irritable word during all the years of her feeble health.

Besides her daughter she is survived by a sister, Miss Amanda Morris of Dixon, by grandchildren located in Iowa, and by nephews and nieces. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Ward Hull of the Washington street Methodist church with interment in Mt. View cemetery, North Pasadena, nephews acting as pallbearers. Here with cloud-capped mountains in the distance and sunshine and warbling birds overhead, her body rests but we know her spirit has gone home to the God who gave it.

Say Many Machines Stuck in Deep Snow

George Brady tried to get to Rochelle Saturday morning to see James Mercer, the I. N. U. lineman, who is recovering from an operation at the Rochelle hospital, but turned back when he was within five or six miles of there. He reported having seen about two dozen cars and two trucks stuck along the road and as the snow was drifting rapidly he did not want to take chances being stuck on coming back so returned immediately.

Lee County Sunday School Workers to Attend Dist. Meet

Considerable interest is being shown in the school for County Sunday School Officers which is to be held at Sterling, March 6th, in the First Christian church, corner Sixth street and Second avenue, and many are planning to attend from this vicinity. The school is one of a series of nineteen which began January 22, at East St. Louis, and which the Illinois Sunday School Association is conducting in all parts of the state.

The general theme of the schools in this 1924 Series is Salesmanship, because the work is selling and delivering to the consumers (Sunday Schools) the International Program of Religious Education, and it takes salesmanship to do it right. Those invited to the schools are county, district, township and city officers and anyone who is interested enough to come and take notes. The speakers are George N. Burnie, Miss Pearl L. Weaver and Leon C. Tyler of the State Association.

New York.—The cloak and suit industry of this city is reported to be back of the proposed Wills-Firpo fight.—News Item.

Cloak and suit terrorists of New York are going to cram a Firpo-Wills squabble down parched tonsils of a pallid, protesting public.

First-flogging regatta will be held under Hart Schaffner & Marx by laws with extra charges for ear alterations and nose replacements. All loose molars must be called for within 30 days.

Swatting shindig will be swank affair, done in double-breasted style with form-fitting hips and loose, free-hanging pantaloons.

Jabbing Jubilee will swarm with style, like colored dice tamer after large evening with the Natural Family. Batlers will swing socially prominent uppercuts, and referee will count in fashionable French figures.

A fancy assortment of reasonable knockouts will be on display, embracing the always correct blue serge and invisible check patterns so much in demand by the young man about town.

Principals in knuckle joust will be compelled to dress correctly for the occasion, and Senior Firpo will please bring along his sleeping gown.

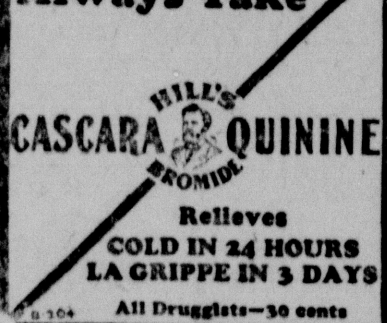

Idea of cloak and suit trade busting into jaw-cracking business is good. Now we'd like to see the Boiler-makers' Union of America interest itself in the Yale junior prom or something.

Expect any day to hear that Amalgamated Order of Eyebrow Pickers has taken over Poughkeepsie regatta and will conduct event on piece-work basis with double pay for overtime.

Next world series will be under unkept supervision of United Plasterers, Local No. 206, and if any fixing's to be done, don't overlook walking delegates.

Always Take

The War on Waste

Waste is the result of misdirected energy. It is like dirt—matter out of place.

The history of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) success may be summed up in two words "Industrial Husbandry" which is another way of saying "Eliminating Waste."

In a big organization such as the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) there are innumerable opportunities to waste time, effort and material.

By intensified organization, by providing proper facilities, abundant raw materials, pleasant working conditions, and by encouraging initiative—the Company makes it possible for every man in its employ to develop the best there is in him and to conclusively prove his worth by his achievements.

Through intensive study and extensive research and experiments, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has found ways to recover more than a score of useful products from waste — products that fill a definite place in the commercial or domestic affairs of mankind.

Time was when gasoline was waste in the petroleum industry. Today, it is the major product.

Perhaps the outstanding example of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) achievements, in eliminating waste, is in the increased yield of gasoline per barrel of crude made possible by processes discovered and developed in its laboratories.

This achievement is the greater because of the imperative urge for more gasoline.

In 1918 there were 6,146,617 cars and trucks registered in the United States. In 1922 there were 12,239,114—or an increase of nearly 100%.

In 1918 the industry produced 326 million barrels of crude, as against 501 million barrels in 1922—an increase of only 53% plus.

Statistics show that while less than 10 gallons of gasoline were recovered per barrel of crude in 1918 that the industry increased the yield to more than 12 gallons per barrel in 1922.

This increased yield was due largely to the process as developed by this Company, and without such an increased yield the price of gasoline unquestionably would be higher.

Thus does the war on waste, waged so intensively by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), redound to the lasting benefit of mankind and also enable the Management of this Company to give a satisfactory accounting of its stewardship to the stockholders now numbering 45,286, more than 11,000 of whom are employees.

Pull Straws to See Whose Name Shall Be First on the Ballot

Freeport.—Attorneys Oscar E. Heard, Jr., and Lawrence A. The county clerk had decided to have all petitions mailed to him but the two republican candidates for State's Attorney agreed to pull straws as to decide first place and Mr. Heard drew the longer straw of the two and hence his name will appear ahead of that of Mr. Jayne on the republican ballot.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Colonel Holles, soldier and adventurer, returns to England, the land of his birth, when war is declared with Holland. He comes to lodge with Martha Quinn, hostess of the Paul's Head, in Paul's Yard, London. The Colonel asks his old friend, His Grace of Albemarle, to secure for him a place in the army and Albemarle warns him that the name of Randall Holles, father of the Colonel, is on the warrant for the execution of the late king. Therefore it is dangerous for the Colonel to secure a commission.

Holles returns to Mrs. Quinn's and visions of a youthful love affair return to him. Nan, the object of his affections, had disappeared when, after five years' absence, Holles returns to her. At her aunt's home he receives scant courtesy.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

By great fortune—a heavenly Providence, in her eyes—her niece was absent at the time. And so in the cause of holiness she lied to him—although of this the poor fellow had no suspicion.

"In that case, young sir, you seek something I cannot give you."

"You mean, you do not know—"

"That she has left you?"

She braced herself to the righteous falsehood.

"That is what I mean."

"When did she leave you? Tell me that, at least."

"Two years ago. After she had been with me a year."

"And whether did she go? You must know that."

"I do not. All that I know is that she went. Believe she is in London. The last, at least, I know is where she would wish to be, being all worldlyness and ungodliness."

He stared at her, a physical sickness pressing him. His little Nan in London, alone and friendless, without means. What might not have happened to her in two years?

Inquiries in the village might have altered the whole course of his life. But, as if the unutterable rage of Mrs. Tendl's devotion removed all chances of the frustration of her ends, Randall rode out of Charnmouth without having spoken to another soul.

For six months after that he sought Nancy in all places likely and unlikely. And all that while in the heart of the man, the thought of Mrs. Tendl's devotion removed all chances of the frustration of her ends, Randall rode out of Charnmouth without having spoken to another soul.

He grew notorious, a man of reckless courage, holding his life cheap, an able leader of men, but a dissolute, hard-drinking, quarrelsome. Englander whom it was not safe to trust too far.

The reaction set in at last; but not until five years of this life had corroded his soul. It came to him one day when he realized that he was over thirty, that he had dissipated his youth, and that the path he trod must lead him ultimately to a contemptible old age. Some of the good that slumbered in the depths of his soul welled up to cry a halt. He would go back. Physically and morally he would retrace his steps.

He would seize this life that was slipping from him and remold it to the original intention. For that he would return to England.

He wrote to Monk, who then was the powerfullest man in the realm. But—Fortune's fool again—he wrote just too late. The restoration was accomplished. It was a few weeks old, no more. For one who had been a prominent Parliament man in the old days, and the son of a Parliament man still more prominent, there was no place by then in English service. Had he but made the application some months sooner, whilst the restoration was still in the balance, and had he then taken sides with Monk in bringing it about, he might by the very act have redeemed the past in Stuart eyes, setting up a credit to cancel the old debt.

Then came the war, and England's unspoken summons to every son of hers who trailed a sword abroad. Dutch service could no longer hold him. This was his opportunity. At last he would shake off the filth of a mercenary's life, and go boldly home to find worthy employment for his sword.

CHAPTER V
 The Mercenary

COLONEL HOLLES took the air in Paul's Yard, drawn forth partly by the voice of a preacher on the steps of Paul's, who was attracting a crowd about him, partly by his own restlessness.

He was moving along the skirts of the crowd that had collected before the preacher, with no intention of peering, when suddenly a phrase arrested him.

"Repent, I say, while it is time! For behold the wrath of the Lord is upon you. The scourge of pestilence is raised to smite you down."

Holles looked over the heads of the assembled citizens, and beheld a black crowd of a man, cadaverous of face, with sunken eyes that glowed unceasingly from the depths of their sockets.

"Repent!" the voice croaked. "Awaken! Behold your peril, and by

Malcolmson raised $30,000, which he turned over to Weil in Joliet, and that if he could raise $25,000 more the stock would be delivered to him, and the stock had been sold for as high as $1.25 a share, he asserted.

"Malcolmson got suspicious when he found I had been in prison—It told him myself." Well said, "We went to Joliet and I said there is the penitentiary, and he said 'yes, I went through it once' and I said 'I graduated from it,' and then told him about my case."

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that no body can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of

RELICS OF CIVIL WAR DAYS DESIRE OF HISTORY ASSN.

Will Be Used in Celebration of Lincoln Day at Capital.

Springfield—(By The Associated Press)—Assisted by sixty women of Springfield and central Illinois, Mrs. Arthur E. Inglesh, daughter of Governor Len Small, is accumulating a loan collection of old clothes and ornaments of Civil War time, which will be one of the distinctive features of this year's celebration of the birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln.

An appeal to all who have such relics to send them to the Illinois State Historical society, in Springfield, has been sent out by Mrs. Inglesh, with request that all such contributions be sent in time to reach here by Monday next, at the latest. Tuesday, February 12, is Lincoln's anniversary.

These old relics will then be on display for the rest of the week, after the celebration. Already a number of interesting contributions have been received, which assure the venture success. Included in the collection will be Civil war styles for both men and women, and for children, including domestic clothing, dress clothes, shoes, and ornaments, jewelry and head dress.

Hope for Donations

It is hoped that much of the collection will be donated to the Historical society, but to those who merely wish to loan articles, the assurance is given that the relics will be preserved and returned in the best of condition.

According to the preliminary announcement of the birthday celebration, the chief program will be given in the Sangamon county circuit court room, which is rich in Lincoln's memories. This room was the Hall of Representatives in Lincoln's time. Here it was that he was nominated for the senate, and here he made his great speech, declaring the danger of a "House divided against itself," and here it was that his body lay in state, when brought back from Washington after his assassination.

Prof. Alexander C. McLaughlin of the University of Chicago, an authority on American history, will deliver the chief address in the court room. According to Mrs. Jessie Palmer Weber, librarian for the Historical society, it is expected that his address will be of permanent value and a distinct addition to Lincoln literature. It will be published by the State Historical society.

Navy Appropriation Bill Reported Out

Washington, Feb. 9.—The annual naval bill carrying $271,942,867, of which $30,000,000 would be available for completing more than a score of vessels now under construction, was reported today by the house appropriations committee. The total is $4,453,000 less than budget estimates and $23,024,000 less than the amount allotted the navy a year ago.

The bill provides $117,000,000 for pay, enough to keep the navy at its present strength of 6,468 officers and 86,000 enlisted men. Provision also is made for 1,002 officers and 19,500 enlisted men in the marine corps—the present strength.

For aviation the bill carries $14,000,000.

Gives Credit to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Hopes Other Women Will Benefit by Her Experience

Skowhegan, Maine.—"I was sick most of the time and could not get around to do my work without being all tired out so I would have to lie down. One day when I was reading the paper I saw the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertisement and saw what it did for other women, so I thought I would try it. I have taken three bottles, and cannot begin to tell you what it has already done for me. I do all my work now and keep up the whole day long without lying down. I have no more headaches nor tired feelings. I hope every woman who takes the Vegetable Compound will get as much benefit out of it as I have."—Mrs. PERCY W. RICHARDSON, R.F.D. No. 2, Skowhegan, Maine.

You have just read how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped Mrs. Richardson. She gave it a trial after she saw what it had done for other women. For nearly 30 years this famous Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been helping women all over the world.

$50,000 or $57,174 less than last year's appropriation.

Commenting on the proposed Polar expedition trip of the dirigible Shenandoah next summer, the report said actual expense over normal operating costs would approximate $152,000 and that since most of this amount would be met with current appropriations, the committee had not seen fit to interfere with plans for the expedition.

As to new ship construction, the committee said it was without power to authorize expenditures for vessels not yet sanctioned by congress but cited information it had obtained that the navy department is committed to a program for building types, permissible under the Washington arms conference treaty, which with the modernizing program already under way, would involve expenditures of approximately $35,000,000 for the next ten years.

This Little World

LONDON

BY MILTON BRONNER

NEA Service Writer

London—I don't know whether any author has ever tried it on President Coolidge, but here is the recipe of Henri Duvernois, well-known Parisian novelist, for getting rid of bores.

Many of them think he ought to take up various abuses and attack them in his novels. After listening to them for about two minutes Duvernois edges them out of the room while saying impressively and courteously:

"What you say has convinced me there is great abuse. But it calls for immediate action. Why don't you tell this to President Millerand? He will see that justice is done."

One of his friends asked Duvernois whether he didn't think he was doing wrong, "sicking" all these people on the president.

"Bless you, no. They never get near the president. The Elysee is the best policed building in all Paris."

An American recently called attention to some funny things connected with London statistics. For instance, old King George IV and the Duke of Wellington are both mounted astride big brisk horses. They are seated on blankets with no saddles or girths. Their feet hang down and there are no stirrups for them to put their toes in.

This aroused a Briton's curiosity and he found two statues in which the subjects were depicted wearing eyeglasses—Sir Walter Besant, the onetime famous novelist, and Sir Willfrid Lawson, the temperance advocate.

And perhaps the most typically British statue in all London is that of Sir Sidney Waterlow, in Highgate. He is carefully carrying an umbrella!

Mademoiselle Montfort, of the Paris Opera, recently sang in Marguerite. She took lunch in a famous restaurant and brought back this yarn:

She asked for mustard.
The waiter stifled a yawn and said there would be none until the next evening.

"Never on Thursday and Sundays."

Minority Opposes McKenzie's Bill

Washington, Feb. 9.—The McKenzie bill authorizing acceptance of Henry Ford's offer for the government's war time project at Muscle Shoals, Ala., is emphatically opposed in a minority report submitted today by members of the house military committee.

Comparing the Ford offer with that of the Southern Power Company but without specifically endorsing any of the four proposals which have been made for operation of the Muscle Shoals plants, the report declares acceptance of the Detroit manufacturers bid would amount "to a gift of enormous property and industrial advantage to a private citizen from the resources of the United States." The power company's proposal as compared with the Ford bid, it says, offers "savings to the government amounting to $34,218,000 for fifty years and $75,600,000 for 100 years."

Representative Hull, republican, Iowa, who consistently has opposed the Ford offer, presented the minority report.
